

Celeste Calabro

I was born and raised in the Belmont neighborhood. I am an active member of the community, and for many years I helped fundraise and plan events for Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church. I worked for Verizon for over thirty years, and for over fifteen years I have worked in the finance and business department at Aquinas High School, which is also where I went to high school. I am passionate about this neighborhood, and I am very proud to say that I am from here and still here in the Bronx.
